Dear Sir:

In accordance with your letter dated February 21, 1957, information contained in attachments thereto, and subsequent discussions between our technical representatives and Government engineers, transmitted herewith is our technical proposal for the successful prosecution of the subject work. Detailed cost breakdown (Form DD 633) is also enclosed.

Our technical proposal has been prepared with the primary emphasis on effecting the maximum in reliability and adherence to the letter of the operational specifications of the equipments to be developed. Our cost estimates have been prepared on this basis. While it is frequently the case in development contracts of the cost-plus-a-fixed-fee type that initial proposals fail to allow for the difficulty of the work and overruns therefore result, it is this Organization's position that unless technical specifications are modified or additional requirements placed in the contract, the Government's requirements as outlined in the specifications can be satisfied within the amounts detailed in the attached cost estimates.

We appreciate the opportunity to submit this proposal and will be available for negotiation. Please advise us if there are any questions.
